Been a long time since this mare had hit the winner's circle when sent to the bench last summer, but she was in against better foes, and now she'll make her return from 7 months on the bench with no drills in over a month on her worktab; she did earn some solid number on this circuit last year and she ran well at this trip and level here last meeting; capable on her best, but don't know that she'll be set for that here.
